Mr. Bose told the student that TIMESPRO is a group which train the candidates and up-skill them for employability in various Banks and Corporate. There are 21 centers of TIMESPRO all over in India and all the ex-bankers with vast experience and knowledge take classes there. It gives the candidate a degree of Post Graduate Diploma in Banking Management.

The session mainly highlighted on:

- Career opportunities in Banking Sector
- BFSI Industry – and its opportunities
- Selection Process – Various Banks
- Growth Opportunities – Banking Sector
- Way Forward

Their main intension was to let the students know that the knowledge should be enough while working in the bank to deal with the customer in both private and national banks. The selection process to work on any bank is divided in four steps which are – 1) Personal Interview, 2)Attitude Test, 3)Documentation Process and finally 4)Offer Letter.

The seminar was really interesting and helpful and will help the students going forward in their career and making career decisions. Timespro will revisit the college to collect student profiles and CVs by the 1st week of December, 2016.
